Program: Brady Ramsay presents: Matt Halley, Cookie Cart
Cookie Cart was started 30 years ago in North Minneapolis by Sister Jean Thuerauf. Through her street outreach to local youth, Sister Jean recognized that these North Minneapolis teens needed a more positive environment. She invited these teens to her home to offer homework help, and once the homework was done, she and the teens would bake cookies together.

Popularity soon grew, and the nonprofit group Cookie Cart was established.

The mission of Cookie Cart is to provide teens 15-18 years old with lasting and meaningful work, life and leadership skills through experience, and training in an urban nonprofit bakery. In addition to working in the bakery setting, the teens have training sessions on interpersonal skills, critical thinking skills, goal setting, and employment readiness as part of the Cookie Cart program.
